Shades of Softness

Kicks to these sticky, white plastic pants strips for ready factor, but when it comes to seeing blackheads for good, exfoliation is key. Look for products packed with fruit extracts to gently scrub dirt and grime, like Poreless 30X Peel (right) or the 30-Second Tinted Moisturizer, which is great for anyone experiencing the first signs of aging. If you've had trouble with redness, Caudalie's Vinotherapeuthique Micro-Exfoliant is a great choice. But things could change in the next few years. Histogen, a regenerative medicine company, just got FDA approval to test its injectable Hair Stimulating Complex, which is made with growth factors that trigger the scalp's fibroblasts (a kind of skin cell) to become pluripotent like stem cells. The trials, if successful, could eventually lead to testing and FDA approval for injections of actual stem cells. "This type of non-surgical hair rejuvenation and restoration really is the future," says
